

Figure 1. Axial brain scans showing the progression of a lesion. The scans are arranged in a 3x4 grid, with the top row showing the initial state, the middle row showing the lesion growing in size and intensity, and the bottom row showing the lesion at its largest and most intense, with significant surrounding edema. The scans are labeled with numbers 1 through 12, indicating the sequence of the progression.